Let's understand

- 5) What was the role of the zamindar in Mughal administration?

Answer: Zamindars were powerful local chieftains appointed by the Mughal rulers. They exercised great influence and power. They collected taxes from the peasants and gave them to the Mughal emperor. Thus, they played the role of intermediaries. In some areas the zamindars became more powerful. The exploitation by Mughal administrators made them to rebellion. They got support from the peasants in rebelling against the Mughal authority.

- 6) How were the debates with religious scholars important in the formation of Akbar's ideas on governance?

Answer: Steps In the 1570's at Fatehpur Sikri Akbar started discussions on religion with people of different faiths. There were Ulamas, Brahmanas, Jesuit Catholic priests and Zoroastrians.

- a) These discussions took place in Ibadat Khana. These were about social and religious customs.
- b) These interactions made him realise that religious scholars are bigots. They emphasize rituals and dogma.
- c) Their teachings create divisions in society. This led to the idea of Sulh-i-Kul or 'Universal peace'.

- 7) Why did the Mughals emphasise their Timurid and not their Mongol descent?

Answer: The Mughals were descendants of two great lineages of rulers. From their mother's side they were descendants of Genghis Khan, ruler of the Mongol tribes. From their father's side they were the successors of Timur, the ruler of Iran, Iraq and modern-day Turkey. However, the Mughals did not like to be called Mongol because Mongol's especially Genghis Khan's, memory was associated with the massacre of innumerable people. It was also linked with the Uzbeks, their Mongol competitors.

On the other hand, the Mughals were proud of their Timurid ancestry, because it achieved good name in the history.

Let's discuss.

8) How important was the income from land revenue to the stability of the Mughal Empire?
